

Day Five

Southwark

I don't think that the memorial was done by Ginnarelli Bros!
Below the inscription tablet are two black skulls,

The organ is by T.C. Lewis who also built the organ for St Paul's Cathedral Melbourne.

The differences are that Southwark was subsequently altered during rebuilding and the pipes are undecorated.
Melbourne was restored (with additions) and the pipes then decorated.

On the train from Slough to Windsor & Eton Central.

I should send a picture to Dan!

Yes, it's a toilet
